EMPEROR OF CHINA DIES

Ruler of the Flowery Kingdom
Breathes His Last.

HOUR OF DEMISE SECRET.

He is Taken to the Death Chamber in the Forbidden City at Two O'Clock, Barely Breathing, and Expires Some Hours Afterward.

Pekin, Nov. 13.—The emperor is dead. He passed away this evening. Two imperial edicts were issued from the palace in the afternoon in quick succession. The first made Prince Chun regent of the empire and the second appointed his son, Ru Wei, heir presumptive.

Simultaneously with the removal of the emperor from the winter palace to the death chamber in the Forbidden City members of the grand council assembled in the palace. The dowager empress was present at this meeting and is reported to have swooned. The emperor was transferred to the death chamber at 2 o'clock. At that hour he was barely breathing. The general impression is that he passed away at 4 o'clock, although one report was that half an hour later he was still alive.

First Defeat For Defense.

Laporte, Ind., Nov. 13.—The defense in the trial of Ray Lamphere for the murder of Mrs. Belle Guinness, in its efforts to prevent certain information going to the jury suffered its first defeat when Judge Richter ruled the report of the coroner's verdict was admissible as primary evidence. The ruling followed exhaustive arguments. Coroner Mack was the first witness on the stand. He was quite uncertain about the answers at the time of the inquest. He testified to finding bodies in the ruins and said one one that of an adult female and the other three were children.

Pierce Said to Have Retained a Number of Them.

Austin, Nov. 13.—When Pierce faces a Travis county jury in his trial next January on the charge of false swearing he will be defended by an array of legal talent picked from the leading lawyers of Austin. It is understood he has retained no less than half a dozen of Austin's leading lawyers in his defense.

It is reported here that Dr. J. W. Bradfield, first assistant to Superintendent Worsham at the Texas state insane asylum, is likely to be named by the governor to succeed Dr. Worsham. It is understood there are several other aspirants to this position.

MUCH MONEY RAISED.

C. C. Slaughter Contributes Fifty Thousand Dollars of Amount.

Fort Worth, Nov. 13.—During the proceedings of the Baptist ministers and laymen's conference $150,000 was contributed toward the Baptist Memorial sanitarium at Dallas. Of this amount Colonel C. C. Slaughter of that city gave $50,000. It is understood that John D. Rockefeller has signified his intention of making a substantial donation.

Fielding Lewis No More.

McAlester, Nov. 13.—Hon. Fielding Lewis, assistant attorney general of Oklahoma and former mayor of South McAlester, died here of typhoid fever. Mr. Lewis was born in Virginia. For many years he was one of the leading lawyers of this state and was appointed assistant attorney general last year by Governor Haskell. The remains were sent to Washington, D. C. for burial under auspices of the Eagles and Knight of Columbus.

Mortgage Deed Placed on Record.

Honolulu, May 13.—A mortgage deed for $70,000 was placed on record by former Queen Liliuokalani, the deed being executed in favor of Claus Spreckles and W. G. Irwin.

NOT DISHEARTENED.

Woodson Says That Democracy Is Well Organized.

Louisville, Nov. 13.—Urey Woodson, secretary of the Democratic national committee, returning home from Chicago, where the national headquarters were finally closed Wednesday, stopped over at Louisville. Secretary Woodson said he would about the first week in December, open his permanent office at Washington.

"The Democratic party has perfected in the past six months," said Mr. Woodson, "a better organization than it has had since 1892, and no labor will be spared to keep it up. We are not disheartened by the recent defeat. Leaders of factions who had been divided and embittered toward one another since 1896 were at last reunited and worked together harmoniously.

UREY WOODSON.

"We did not win because the time had not come for us to win, because the enemy frightened a majority of the voters, especially the business interests, into the belief that our candidate was unsafe, but Speaker Cannon will not be dethroned, and Republican legislation, all signs indicate, will be so reckless and in such utter disregard to the wishes and interests of the people that we cannot lose the next contest."

Claim Obstnacy.

Lowell, Mass., Nov. 13.—Five experienced practitioners gathered at the bedside of Lucina Piette, the French Canadian girl, who has been asleep for thirteen days and applied the electricity in the hope of waking her. The physicians were satisfied the girl's case is not catalepsy but hysteria and that her own obstnacy keeps her sleep. The doctors applied electricity to her hands and feet. She gave unmistakable evidence of being conscious of what was being done to her, as she offered serious resistance to the doctor's work. When one of the doctors said threateningly that they would apply electricity for the third time with a much stronger current, telling a colleague at the same time to take hold of her foot to apply the apparatus to it, the girl quickly drew it under the bedclothes.

Bandits Foiled.

Yekaterinberg, Russia, Nov. 13.—An unsuccessful attempt was made here by a band of twenty-five men to rob a railroad train upon which several million roubles in specie were being conveyed to St. Petersburg. Five of the band were arrested and one killed, but the others got away. A gendarme and a bystander were wounded.

New Records Made.

Mobile, Nov. 13.—It was announced here that the Seventy-fifth United States artillery at Fort Morgan made new records for the fort with twelve-inch rifles. Out of ten shots eight hits were made on a target six miles off the fort in the Gulf of Mexico.

Largest Deficit of Department.

Washington, Nov. 13.—Postmaster General Meyer announced that the postal deficit for the year ended June 30, 1908, amounted to $16,910,279. The receipts were $191,478,633, being $7,893,657 greater than the previous year and the expenditures $208,361,886. The deficit is the largest in the history of the postoffice department.

Some of the Officers.

Atlanta, Nov. 13.—The Southern Medical association held its final session Thursday among the officers elected were: President, Dr. G. C. Savage, Nashville; vice president, Charles Murray, Mississippi; George Lock, Louisiana; secretary, Oscar Dowling, Shreveport.

LITTLE LOCALS.

"The man with the hoe" is playing second fiddle now to "the man with the ax."

A shipment of merchandise was forwarded Bullock & Jones at Harvey from this point Friday.

Moore & Payne of Edge were in the market here Friday and a nice shipment was forwarded them.

One hundred and twenty tickets to Houston were sold here by the H. & T. C. ticket agent yesterday.

Men and teams are at work on the College road, grading, ditching and otherwise placing it in first-class condition.

Regular meeting of the Ladies Choral club in Carnegie library this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rehearsal and other business.

Mr. Jim Davis, general merchant at Milligan, is selling out his goods and other property, preparatory to moving to California.

A shipment of turkey feathers weighing 450 pounds was made from this point yesterday over the H. & T. C. to the Northern Produce company at Houston.

The new bridge at the Bundy crossing of the Navasota has been completed. This structure is 125 feet long in the clear, and was built by Contractor Ayres.

Twenty-three to naught in favor of the Indians was the score of the game played on the A. & M. gridiron yesterday afternoon between the Haskell Savages and the A. & M. team.

To the people of Union Hill: There will be preaching at the close of Sunday school exercises Sunday afternoon by Rev. J. B. Turrentine, pastor of the First Methodist church of Bryan.

A bad hole in the Wheelock road five miles north of the city is reported. It is stated that a man who was driving in with a wagon load of seed cotton a few days ago upset his wagon there.

Contractors Put Buchanan and John Jones have completed the new bridge at Ferguson's crossing on the Navasota river, and same has been accepted by the county commissioners' court.

The new bridge is 120 feet in length, independent of approaches.

Weather forecast for Saturday: Light northeast winds. This forecast is made by the weather department of the federal government. A message over the railroad wire yesterday afternoon tells of severely cold weather in the northern section of the state, and the probability of freezing as far south as Bryan.

Only a few new photographs will adorn the official documents of Brazos county as a result of the recent election. With the exception of three, all officers were re-elected. The exceptions are: Mr. John D. Conlee, sheriff, vice R. M. Nall, who declined to stand for re-election; Mr. J. H. Zuercher, district clerk, and Mr. Monroe Edge, county surveyor.

FOR SALE.—Three lots, 104 feet front each, in Cavitt's Deer Park; shade trees; desirable situation for homes. Small payment, easy terms. These are quarter-acre lots.

STOP ILLEGAL WHISKY SELLING.

Citizens of Bedias Organize for the Purpose and Explain Objects.

Bedias, Tex., Nov. 14.—The citizens of this place have organized what is termed a citizens' club. It is not a secret organization, everybody being invited to attend its meetings, and the object is to stop the sale of whiskey. This action grows out of the killing of two men here three weeks ago, one of them an innocent bystander, who was one of our best business men and citizens. The resolution passed by this organization at its last meeting set out as its purpose and pledges its members to use all lawful means to prevent what is commonly known as "bootlegging," and to prevent all joints selling liquors of any kind. They declare that, in their opinion, the provision of the law is ample if enforced to keep down this kind of lawlessness, and if the correspondent is not mistaken in the personnel of this organization whisky selling will have a rocky road to travel in this community. Reports have gone out, likely through interested sources, that this organization is a mob, and its object to take the law in its own hands, but this is not the case. The provisions of the law are amply sufficient to accomplish the desired end. There is no intention or desire on the part of this organization to prevent any man, white or black, from buying or using whisky in a lawful way.

Morganatic Wives Only.

The truth about these so-called international marriage is that the American girl who trades her millions for a foreign title is looked upon as being the morganatic wife of the foreign nobleman. The American girl who has been raised in the belief that the marriage tie is sacred finds, after an alliance with a foreign nobleman, that she is merely a "wife of convenience" and that so far as she is concerned the marriage tie is a myth. Charles Edward Russell has very clearly and succinctly set these facts forth in recent magazine articles—so clearly that the American girl who is hereafter deceived has no one but herself to blame. The morganatic wife in Europe may be an accepted institution, but no American girl who is true to her training or to American traditions can accept a position as such. The American heiress who puts her fortune in the scale with a title and social position soon finds that she has neither title nor social position, and that she is looked upon by the circle of nobility as little more than the mistress of the man upon whom she confers her wealth. The sooner this brutal fact is impressed upon the minds of our American girls the better.—The Commoner.

The farmer who diversified his crop, who raised his own meat, bread, garden vegetables and fruits, with some to spare, is now able to hold his cotton and laugh at those who would force him to sell for less than it cost to produce it.

Estimate Submitted.

Mr. T. R. Batte, Jr., engineer in charge of the drainage district No. 1 of Brazos county, has submitted his estimate of the amount of work necessary to attain the results desired in the creation of the district, and the cost it will entail. The total cost is figured at $11,500, divided as follows: $36,528 cubic yards of earth embankment, $39,662.50; cleaning and grubbing 121-2 acres of land at $75 per acre, $937.50; masonry for flood gates, $900. Notice has been given that a special session of the commissioners' court will be held here on December 7 for further hearing of the matter, and those interested are expected to be present at this meeting of the court.

An Eight Days' Mission.

The Rev. Dr. Duffy contemplates holding an eight days' mission at St. Andrew's Episcopal church. The objects in view are a preparation for the advent season, in recognition of the second coming of Christ, a deepening of the spiritual life, and an awakening to religious responsibilities. The mission will begin on Monday evening, November 23, and end on Monday, November 30. St. Andrew's day, which is appointed as a day of intercession of missions in the whole Anglican church. Ladies and gentlemen with good voices are earnestly asked to join the choir for this special purpose. A hearty welcome given all.

WACO RESCUE HOME

For Homeless and Fallen Girls and Infants' Home for Nameless Waifs.

Mr. H. L. Thomas, representing the above named charitable institution, is in the city. From a circular distributed by Mr. Thomas, describing the work of the home, these extracts are taken:

Twenty-five girls were admitted to the home last year, and 27 more since the beginning of this year. Several of these have been helped to places of useful employment five have married, and a few have been sent home to friends, while three or four have voluntarily left the home.

Twenty-one infants have been cared for in the home, and a department under the care of a nurse is maintained for the little ones, especially those who are orphans or whose mothers cannot care for them.

This is a home where any girl, if she be homeless or penniless, may find friends and a shelter, without money and without price, provided she obeys the rules of the home.

It is an inter-denominational Christian home, and believes in prayer, faith and works, and invites the co-operation of everyone who is willing to help lift up the fallen, restore the erring and bind up the broken-hearted.

The weather is favorable to a sidewalk rebuilding campaign.

The farmer who has an orchard and a garden and no canning outfit is losing many bushels of fruit and vegetables that could easily be saved.

The New Orleans States enjoys the distinction of having made the largest collection for the Democratic campaign fund, the total amount reaching 122,000.

THE COTTON MARKET.

The hopeful sign in the cotton market yesterday was the fact that some of the "big guns" of the trade are taking the bull side of the market. It is stated that among these may be mentioned McFadden Bros., Theodore Price and Dan Sully, three of the best posted men in the world on the cotton situation, who believe the price of the staple at present is too low.

Prices continue at the level of the past week, despite the fact that enormous receipts are of daily occurrence, and the strength in the market indicates that there is sufficient demand to take care of the supply, which places the price on a more stable basis than if the demand was purely speculative.

This is indicated to some extent by the demand in Liverpool, where daily sales of spot cotton are more than twice as large on the average now than they were before the settlement of the recent strike.

The market was rather narrow yesterday. Liverpool opened as due, 4 points up, and closed 4 down. The American markets opened unchanged and closed 6 to 7 points down.

Notwithstanding the decline in the future market, the spot market was strong, and prices here were unchanged.

Less Cotton—More Corn.

The increased expense of raising cotton and the low price at which it is being sold should at least do much to encourage those who own their own land to plant more corn and less cotton. More corn means more and better livestock. It is only by raising as nearly as possible those things consumed on the farm that the farmer will be able to keep out of debt and make needed improvements. At present prices, labor and investment considered, the more cotton raised and sold the greater becomes the loss to the producer. Apparently the farmer's only salvation is in paying more attention to producing what is consumed on the farm and selling such surplus as there is a demand for at prices that will leave a profit over cost of production.—Farm and Ranch.

BRYAN, TEXAS, NOV. 14, 1908.

The Thirty-first legislature will lack the flavor of the San Antonio Onion.

Hot Springs, Va., expects to be the summer capital for the next four years, at least.

Going up in a balloon did not satisfy the German people that their kaiser didn't say it.

The Houston Post's campaign rosters were not on exhibition at the carnival poultry show.

None of Governor Campbell's physicians have mentioned the text-book awards as a cause of Governor Campbell's illness.

When Editor Roosevelt gets to work on The Outlook it is expected the editorials will all be serials, "Continued in our next."

San Antonio feels like a slighted lover since Taft persists in staying at Hot Springs, Va. Those Texas pants were not appreciated.

Enough Bryan money has been spent in Houston this week to build a factory or endow a college. And what have we got to show for it?

Fort Worth footpads are no respecters of persons. They are picking the pockets of the preachers and messengers to the Baptist general convention.

A thousand new factories in the next eighteen months—that is what the Austin Statesman predicts for Texas. Bryan ought to have several of them.

John W. Gates has subscribed $10,000 to build a college at Port Arthur. Since John W. is a sport from start to finish we expect there will be little but athletics in the curriculum.

The Cubans are electing a president today. Both parties are claiming everything, which goes to prove that the Cubans are sufficiently Americanized to be capable of self government.

H. Clay Peirce was pleased with the reception he met from "the people of Texas." The lawyers and other scoundrels who ran over each other to sign his bond were not "the people of Texas" by a large majority.

More corn and better corn is the slogan of the Corn Growers' association. That ought to be the slogan for every Texas farmer all along the line. Careful seed selection and up-to-date methods in cultivation are the requirements.—Denison Herald.

Defeated, but not disorganized nor discouraged, the Democracy will still carry on the war for the eternal principles for which it stands, remembering that "Freedom's battle, once begun, Bequeathed from bleeding sire to son, Though baffled oft is always won."

History repeats itself. A struggle similar to that between Charles I and the long parliament is just beginning in Germany. It is hoped, however, that the issue between autocracy and constitutional government in Germany may be settled without bloodshed.

Governor Patterson of Tennessee says he will put down night riding if it exhausts the state treasury and fills all the jails. It would be cheaper and easier to remove the cause. By the way, what does Governor Patterson propose to do with that henchman of his who murdered an editor for telling the truth.

A kiss is a peculiar proposition, says an exchange. Of no use to one, yet absolute bliss to two. The small boy gets it for nothing, the young man has to steal it, and the old man has to buy it. The babies right, the lovers' privilege, the hypocrite's mask. To a maiden, faith, to a married woman, hope, and to an old maid, charity.

No Texas Democrat ever thought about getting a job in the event of Mr. Bryan's election. Of course, they didn't. Texas Democrats are all patriots, and all they wanted was to save the country! Having failed in their cherished purpose, they will now go "right along about their business" and do something for Texas. Texas is just as big now as it was prior to Nov. 3, and Bill Taft won't whittle an inch off of it.—Fort Worth Star.

LATEST CONCERNING MELEE.

Varsity Men Willing to Forgive and Forget.

Austin, Tex., Nov. 13.—The students' council of the university met last night and besides discussing the fight of the Texas and Agricultural and Mechanical students at Houston, transacted some routine business. Since the people of Houston had been so courteous to the university students, a committee, consisting of C. E. Wheat, Towne Young and S. L. Kelly, was appointed to draw up resolutions of thanks to the people of that city. The report of the auditing committee of the Texan books was received and approved. It was shown that the association was in splendid shape financially.

The trouble with the Agricultural and Mechanical students at Houston was thoroughly discussed and considered. It was thought that all parties concerned were very sorry that such a thing should have occurred, and while no official action was taken as regards this affair, a feeling of confidence was expressed that Agricultural and Mechanical would act favorably regarding the affair. Of course one of the Texas students was cut during this affair and this makes it more serious than it might have been otherwise. Still the Agricultural and Mechanical students have always conducted themselves well at Austin, and no further trouble is expected.

The Mail-Order Citizen.

Governor Folk is from Missouri. He's regarded as a pretty good citizen himself. See what he says about a certain sort of citizen:

"I do not believe in the mail-order citizen. It is better that we should have a thousand towns than one large city. If a place is good enough for a man to make his money in, it certainly should be good enough for him to spend his money in. The merchants have a just right to all the business of the town in which they have their stores, and every good citizen will help them to get it." Did you ever see a fine large fact so simply stated?

THE WILD WEST SHOW.

Something About the Attraction Billed For November 21.

The 101 Wild West show, the most remarkable amusement institution in the history of out-door spectacles, will visit this city on November 21, presenting afternoon and evening performances and introducing itself with an elaborate forenoon street parade. Nothing like it in character or magnitude has ever before been seen here.

The life of the ranch and range and Indian camp will be produced in all its spectacular and vivid picturesqueness by real, living figures of the frontier.

The organization comes direct from Miller Brothers' ranch at Bliss, Okla., the largest and most famous in all the world. Every one of the 700 members is a permanent employee of the great enterprise, paroled to give the public its first truthful view of the life that has vitalized western history. At the conclusion of the tour they will return to their duties of the prairie.

There are three of the Miller Brothers—Joseph C., Zack T. and George L., and they are the pride and wonder of Oklahoma and all the other great Southwest. Their land holdings embrace more than thirty square miles, and their cattle and horses roam the unblocked range in droves of thousands. They are survivors of the days of the buffalo drive and the emigrant trail, and are proving that the stock industry on a gigantic scale is just as immensely profitable today as ever.

The Millers entered the show business last year, when the directors of the Jamestown Exposition urged them, famous representatives of the cat-raising business, to give an arctic exhibition of its features. The show the sensational triumph of the Enthusiastic crowds flocked to every performance, never seeming of its stirring, unwonted scenes. So tremendous was the popularity and patronage that New demanded an entertainment. The Millers hurried back to recruited another show, and to Brighton Beach, New where for six weeks it broke metropolitan records of attendance and favor.

The organization which is coming to this city is a consolidation of the two which astonished the country last year. Its success has been unprecedented in every city visited this season. It is a living page from frontier history, without professionalism or theatrics. Every figure and feature is original with the 101 Ranch cowboys, cowgirls, Indians, "bucking" horses and trained cow ponies, champions of the lariat, the gun and the bow and arrow; long-horned steers, pure-blooded buffaloes, emigrants schooners and prairie stage coaches. Without variation of illusion, the sports, pastimes, hardship, chivalries and routine duties of the ranch are reproduced.

The 101 Ranch show, from its very nature and source, is different and distinct from anything ever shown before under canvas. None of the hackneyed, tiresome, familiar round of other so-called "wild west" displays enters into its rollicking and reckless tournament. It is fresh, clean and wholesome, fairly tingling with the atmosphere of prairie and mountain. There is not a man or woman in it who has not learned the secrets of the border far out in the sage brush and the prairie, and who cannot read the grass and the sky with understanding eyes. The grand entry at each performance is a veritable echo of the plains and the cattle trail.

Miller Brothers have aspired to make their preliminary street parade a pageant that will remain a glorious memory to all who view its wonders. More than 100 Indians are a fantastic feature, and every person and animal with the organization is required to be in line. The cavalcade stretches more than a mile in length and is a moving summary of the west, which knows no barbed wire or blocked trails.

St. Andrew's (Episcopal) Church.

The Rev. Dr. Duffy, who has just arrived from Canada, will conduct divine services in the church on Sunday (tomorrow) as follows:

11 a. m.—Morning prayer and sermon. Subject, "The Profession of Our Faith."

7:30 p. m.—Evening prayer and sermon. Subject, "A Message from God."

At the close of the sermon, Dr. Duffy earnestly desires a short conference with the members of the congregation, whom he seeks as co-workers for a week's mission for the deepening of the spiritual life, an awakening to a full sense of religious responsibility, and a due preparation for the observance of the advent season in realization of the second coming of Christ.

Questions—Dr. Duffy will be glad to answer questions of doubt and difficulty, meaning of the use of symbols, ornaments, vestiture, attitude in worship, form of prayer, or other subjects not understood by the general worshipper.

Delicate as frost tracery on the window pane is a shipment of Torchon point russe lace, received by Coulter yesterday. This particular pattern is four inches wide, and was opened up and placed on sale at 5 cents per yard. Large assortment of lace, various widths and patterns at 2-1/2 to 5c per yard.

Lost—Pointer pup, about three months old; black and white; collar on punched full of holes. Reward for return to Roy Vick, Bryan, Texas. 292-294

Coulter has just received a line of suit cases which cannot be duplicated at the price anywhere. This line is part of the recent St. Louis purchase, and was bought at a price that will justify him in placing on sale the line, brown, black, tan and other colors, brass corners, reinforced, straps around, good locks and in every way a handsome, up-to-date suit case, at from $1.25 to $10. Ladies' cases are silk lined. To those who need or are likely to need a suit case in the near future, it is not necessary to say "now is the time."

FADS AND FASHIONS.

New York, Nov. 13.—The cold weather has brought furs to the foreground, and the fashionable shops are making a fine display of fur garments. There are coats and jackets of every description, capes, neck pieces, stoles and cloaks, muffs and hats, made of every known kind of fur. The very nature of the material makes great variations in style and treatment of furs practically impossible, but the makers of these garments have displayed remarkable ingenuity in devising new forms and styles richer and more becoming than ever. The coats are mostly built on the lines of the directoire model, showing long and slender lines.

The most beautiful furs are at their best when treated in a severe style. No applied trimming or bizarre cutting can improve Russian sable, silver fox or seal, and such furs, particularly the long-haired ones, are most effective if merely self-trimmed. The directoire cape is possibly the newest and most luxurious note in fur garments. The models shown in the windows of the fashionable shops show slight difference of line and finish, but the general character of these garments is the same—a long, loose, sleeveless cloak, whose shoulder line runs down almost to the elbow. The cloak is opened all the way up the sides, but caught together lightly under the arms to provide some slight semblance of a sleeve effect. Often back ends in one long point, fall out over the train and the front two shorter points. Other models show a gradual slope from middle point to middle back.

Among the furs used in those garments there is but one distinct novelty, "Hudson seal," which is really not seal at all, but the fur of the French rat, which greatly resembles seal, but is considerably cheaper. The resemblance is so close that only an expert can tell the difference. Seal has once more become fashionable, but only rich women will be able to invest in any of the handsome seal garments shown in the windows. All the old furs, mink, sable, chinchilla, caracul, astrakhan, fox, lamb and others are in evidence, and they are used with greater freedom of treatment than in former years.

Long, close sleeves are used in the fur coats, both long and short, which have the First Consul tendency. Short fur models are built on the same general lines that distinguish the longer models, with very often a hint of the directoire in their design. Braid and buttons and cord ornaments formed of braid or covered with silk or satin are used upon these short coats, even more than upon the long models. The linings are chiefly in rich soft satin, and in the exquisite middle tones instead of in white and vivid colors. The gold yellows are very successful as linings for sealskin, and these same tones are also cleverly used in some handsome coats in brown caracul.

Muffs are larger than ever this season, and usually flat and soft. The handsomest models are without trimming, but, as usual, there are some fanciful models in combinations of fur, fur and lace, fur and velvet, fur and chiffon and net.

Fur will also be used quite extensively for trimming suits this season. Handsome cloth suits are shown in the fashionable shops, tastefully trimmed with bands of fur. The fur is employed on the skirts and collars, cuffs and waistcoats are made of it to go with the coat. Fur is also often used for trimming hats to be worn with such fur-trimmed suits.

One of the novel and striking features seen at the horse show were plain plaid waistcoats. These small garments, which promise to become quite popular, are of plain plaid silk and modeled closely after a man's vest. They may be worn with any type of simply tailored cloth or worsted costume that is developed in one tone, as, of course, the brilliant colors of the plaid would be certain to clash unpleasantly with any light shade of red, blue or green.

While the costliest of fabrics were seen at the evening sessions of the horse show, they were made up into a type of costume which is a cross between that worn for afternoon receptions and large weddings in churches and the regulation dinner gown, as they were more elaborate than the one while they differed radically from the other, in that the waist invariably was made high and the arms were fully covered.

Speaking of waistcoats, it may be said that ordinary silk and satin waistcoats are commonplace and not considered good style. Waistcoats of upholstery material are quite fashionable, on the other hand. These fashionable fabrics are somewhat rough and often have a thread of bullion running through them. While brass buttons are at the height of style for both waistcoats and coats, there the beginning of a movement to avoid them on some of the best suits. Waistcoats on extra handsome black broadcloth suits are fastened without visible buttons. They are bound with old galloon, which has the disadvantage of tarnishing, but can be easily renewed.

Black for general wear is evidently destined to have as great a vogue this year as it had last year, and black cloth gowns designed for wear with black fur or velvet jackets are among the smartest of all new models.

Fashionable big picture hats are made of velvet to match the gown with which they are worn, and are trimmed only with long feathers, all carried out in the same shade.

Wedding gowns are changed so that instead of the heavy velvet train hanging from the shoulders, the veil will fulfill its old mission and be veil and train in one. Thus, when the veil is discarded, the gown is one that may be worn for dinners and dances.

Hoods have become highly popular in Paris and all the famous Parisian milliners are catering to the new fad and turning out the most charming models. For evening wear these hoods are a perfect boon, as they combine beauty and comfort as no other head covering ever did before.

Though never obtrusively fashionable, the grays are the choice of many really well-dressed women, particularly for evening dresses that are to be worn often.

FLORENCE FAIRBANKS.

WOMEN STUDY JOURNALISM.

Cour. Opened in Smith College For Seniors Only.

A course in journalism has been opened at Smith college, Northampton, Mass., constituting the first of its kind in the colleges exclusively for women.

It is an "elective," for seniors only, restricted further to those who have taken a certain number of regular English and literature courses, and is conducted by Miss Mary A. Jordan, head of the departments of English language and literature.

The work is not intended to deal with any of the theories of journalism, but is devoted to giving the students a little practical training in the requirements of newspaper writing.

The students themselves refer to it as the "newspaper course," and most of those taking it are either doing this kind of work "on the side" while still at college or expect to go into it after graduation.

The course opened this fall with a study of the types of newspapers and newspapers' style. Beginning with the most conservative, the students have been directed to write articles suitable for them.

The course is extremely popular among the so-called "literary lights" of the senior class.

STRAY TOPICS FROM LITTLE OLD NEW YORK.

Dr. Aked's Views.

New York, Nov. 13.—Dr. Aked, the pastor of Rockefeller's church, has whirled up a great deal of dust by his radical views on woman's suffrage and by his advice to women, to use force to obtain the right to vote, now denied them. What is the world coming to, if a minister of the gospel dares to give such advice? It may be doubtful what women in general may think of Dr. Aked's advice, but it is safe to assume that an overwhelming majority of men will agree with a certain prominent politician of this city, who expressed himself rather enigmatically upon this subject. His only comment, after having read the remarkable advice of Dr. Aked was, "The man who wrote that should have 'D. F.' behind his name instead of 'D. D.'." He did not explain what "D. F." stood for, but the look of disgust on his face indicated that his enigmatic criticism was not meant to be complimentary.

Maybe Dr. Aked's advice came a little too late to arouse the great mass of women to concerted and hostile action; however that may be, nothing came of it. The suffragettes and suffragettes confined themselves to a mere demonstration of their seriousness by holding mock elections, just like the naughty men. It is rumored in suffragette circles that Taft received a handsome majority, but as each one of the feminine election judges arrived at a different total of the votes cast and the experts are still working on the straightening out of the returns, this statement could not be verified. It appears from the disclosure made by one of the fair suffragettes in an unguarded moment, that many of the women voted for Taft because his name is so much like "taffeta," easily remembered and evoking pleasant suggestions.

Broke the Voting Machine.

Judging from the experience in Trenton, N. J., a town notorious for the corruptness of its political gangs, it would be an expensive experiment to introduce voting machines in New York. Voting machines are supposed to make the doctoring of election returns impossible, and it is that feature which makes them unpopular with political gangs and machines. In Trenton several of these machines were ruthlessly shattered with hammer or ax on the eve of election, evidently in the hope that the old style of voting would be used, where the machines were not available. They were fooled, however, as the city had a number of reserve machines, which were used to replace the shattered machines. What would become of Tammany, should voting machines ever be introduced in New York?

Naming the Skeleton.

While Gotham was in the throes of the presidential election and eagerly discussing the chances of the various candidates, the seriousness of the suffragette movement, Broughton Brandeburg's discredited Cleveland articles and other subjects of political importance, the National academy, where a few hundred, mostly young men and women, are cultivating a close acquaintance with "higher art," was the scene of impressive rites and serious doings, unsuspected by the busy outside world. The central figure of the event was a skeleton, the skeleton in the closet of the women's life class at the National academy, and thereby hangs a tale. The skeleton aforesaid is to be taken literally. It is a human skeleton used by the members of the life class in studying the anatomy of the human body. Every art academy has its skeleton, and it plays an important part in the academic and social life of the students. For generations it has been the custom of the students at the Paris academy to hold every year, at the beginning of the term, a celebration, at which the skeleton is baptized for the year's term. The girls at the National academy had heard of this custom and its gruesomeness appealed to their artistic imagination. They decided to follow the ancient custom of the Paris academy and to baptize their skeleton with appropriate ceremonies. To defray the cost of the celebration and of the banquet, which, according to the program, was to bring the event to a close, a collection of voluntary contributions was made among the members of the life class. The girls contributed $3.60, and it was decided to use whatever should remain unexpended of that amount for the purchase of a new rug in the anteroom.

The next question was what name should be given to the skeleton. For years the aforesaid skeleton had done service in the life class and during all that time it had been affectionately referred to as "Bill Bones," or, more ceremoniously as "Mr. Bones." The "Bill" and the sense of humor strongly developed among many of the art students, suggested to name the skeleton "Bill Taft." The suggestion met with favor and was unanimously approved by the members of the class. But it was not to be! The day before the ceremony one of the girls, who had studied anatomy before she entered the life class, discovered that "Mr. Bones" wasn't a "Mister" at all, at all, and that, for obvious reasons it would be a shocking misnomer to call it "Bill Taft." After the girls had reconsidered their former decision, and after 239 votes had been taken, compromised on "Elfrida Taft," which name was duly and solemnly bestowed upon the "misunderstood" skeleton on the following day.

Why No Hunters Were Killed.

For the first time in many generations the hunting season in the Adirondacks has come to a close without having demanded human sacrifice. Not a single hunter was killed, and only two or three were injured. In former seasons from five to a score of hunters were killed and many more injured in the Adirondacks every fall. In nearly every case the victims were mistaken for deer by some of their comrades in arms. Oldtimers are inclined to believe that the bloodless result of the hunting season just passed—it was bloodless in every respect, as only a few deer were shot—was due to the decline of marksmanship in the present generation of hunters. "These city hunters," said one of the veteran hunters, "make me tired. They couldn't hit a two-story barn at a distance of twenty feet." No wonder, if that is true, that so few deer and no hunters were killed in the past season.

Queer Occupations.

The progress and development of civilization, with its new devices, machines, tools and scientific methods of doing things has called into existence many new occupations unknown to our forefathers. The latest addition was disclosed the other day, when a man was arrested for speeding his automobile beyond the limit of safety. The prisoner was taken to the nearest police station and booked in the usual way. When the lieutenant asked the prisoner what his occupation was the man answered: "Absolute chronic rheumatism." When asked whether he had no other occupation, the prisoner indignantly replied: "What else do you want? Don't you think that's enough to keep any man busy?" He may be quite right, but it seems a rather unpleasant and unprofitable occupation.

Will Winter in Georgia.

Hot Springs, Va., Nov. 13.—President-Elect Taft told the Texas News Service correspondent that he would be unable to visit Texas this winter as he has already arranged to winter at Augusta, Ga. Judge Taft has been invited by commercial bodies of San Antonio, Dallas, Fort Worth and other cities to visit the state and he said he regretted he could not accept their hospitality but hopes to go to Texas at some future day.

Negro Families Leave.

Nashville, Nov. 13.—As the result of the operations of a gang of night riders in the vicinity of Henrietta, Cheatham county, this state, near the Montgomery county line, a number of negro families have left the state. Within the past two weeks warnings have been sent out in this section warning negroes to depart.

Snatched From Gallows.

Oklahoma City, Nov. 13.—United States Judge Cotterall of Lawton stopped the execution of William Johnson at Tecumseh, charged with the murder of Mrs. Samuel Cuppy. Cotterall issued a writ of habeas corpus and rushed a special messenger to Tecumseh. The messenger reached the scene just thirty minutes before the time for the hanging.

Chapters In Foreign Lands.

Atlanta, Nov. 13.—Chapters of the United Daughters of the Confederacy exist not only in every part of the United States, but also in foreign countries. Reports by chapters brought responses from many northern cities, all stating the organizations are flourishing. One of the most distant chapters to report was from the City of Mexico.

Cold Weather In Texas.

Dallas, Nov. 13.—Advices from Amarillo state three inches of snow fell there. The thermometer dropped to 18. Snow is reported in other Panhandle localities.

There was a decided drop at Galveston, the coldest of the season. All over north, east and central Texas cold weather prevails.

Dog Saves Family and Burns.

Georgetown, Tex., Nov. 13.—A barking pet dog saved the lives of E. F. Booth and family from death in a fire which destroyed their home. All were asleep when dog's yelps awoke them and they escaped in their nightclothes. The animal perished in the flames. Loss is $12,000.

Files Suit For Eye Injury.

San Antonio, Nov. 13.—Dr. Juan Suler, a physician and mayor of Saltillo, Mex., filed suit against the Katy for $55,000 for alleged injury to an eye in a passenger wreck at San Marcos in September. Several others injured in this wreck filed suits.

Ride Mule and Carry Candy.

Hennessey, Okla., Nov. 13.—In order to carry out the result of an election wager, made with his brother, Dr. N. Rector of this place, an ardent Republican, Wilson Rector, an enthusiastic Democrat, who bet on Bryan, must ride a mule from Smithfield, Ill., his home, to Hennessey. He has also to bring along and present to his brother a pound of candy.
